

Sr. Accountant

About Tulavi Therapeutics

Tulavi Therapeutics is a medical technology company focused on improving patient outcomes through innovation tailored to the specific needs of peripheral nerves. Our flagship product, the allay™ Hydrogel Cap, is the first and only fully absorbable technology specifically indicated to reduce the risk of symptomatic neuroma formation. By addressing a critical source of chronic nerve pain, Tulavi is helping clinicians deliver more predictable surgical results and improve quality of life for patients.

We combine rigorous scientific research with practical clinical insight to bring novel, evidence-based solutions to market.

Position Summary

Tulavi Therapeutics is seeking a highly motivated Senior Accountant to join our growing team in Los Gatos, California. This position will play a key role in supporting the company's accounting operations, financial reporting, compliance activities, and month-end close process in a dynamic, fast-paced medical device environment.

The ideal candidate is a hands-on accounting professional who thrives in a collaborative setting, values accuracy and accountability, and enjoys partnering cross-functionally to support business growth.

Responsibilities

- Manage day-to-day accounting operations, including general ledger maintenance, journal entries, accruals, and account reconciliations.
- Support monthly, quarterly, and annual financial close activities.
- Prepare and analyze financial statements in accordance with U.S. GAAP.
- Assist with budgeting, forecasting, variance analysis, and management reporting.
- Monitor spending against budgets and provide financial insights to support decision-making.
- Maintain strong internal controls and ensure compliance with accounting policies and procedures.
- Support external audits and prepare required documentation.
- Collaborate with Operations, R&D, Commercial, and other business functions to improve processes and reporting capabilities.
- Assist with ERP system optimization and continuous process improvement initiatives.
- Maintain accurate and organized financial records and supporting documentation.

Qualifications

Required

- Bachelor's degree in Accounting, Finance, or a related field.

- Strong foundational accounting experience, including general ledger management, reconciliations, accruals, and journal entries.
- Experience preparing and analyzing financial statements in accordance with GAAP.
- Proficiency with ERP/accounting systems and advanced Excel skills.
- Strong analytical, organizational, and problem-solving skills.
- Excellent communication skills and ability to work effectively across departments.
- Ability to manage multiple priorities and meet deadlines in a fast-paced environment.

Preferred

- CPA certification or progress toward CPA.
- Experience in medical device, life sciences, healthcare, manufacturing, or other regulated industries.
- Experience supporting audits, compliance activities, and internal controls.
- Prior senior-level or lead accounting responsibilities.

Compensation & Benefits

Salary Range: $110,000 – $140,000 annually

In accordance with California pay transparency requirements, the reasonably expected salary range for this position is listed above. Actual compensation will be determined based on factors including experience, qualifications, skills, education, and business needs.

In addition to base salary, Tulavi offers:

- Equity participation
- Medical, dental, and vision insurance
- Life insurance
- 401(k) plan
- Discretionary Time Off (DTO) for exempt employees
- Paid sick leave and company holidays
- Employee Assistance Program (EAP)
- Health Savings Account (HSA) and Flexible Spending Account (FSA) options
